First Wednesdays:

You are welcome to our series of ethical debates about living the modern Christian life through which we aim to prompt debate on the role of Christianity in society.

Below is our upcoming programme for 2011.

All talks are at 7.30pm at Bramhall URC

Wed 2nd Feb. Dr Nick Jones asks "Who has the best lines, God or the Devil" – a flippant way of asking about how religion and faith have been portrayed in literature

Wed 2nd March Rev'd Alan Poolton starts the run in to Lent by looking at art from across the world and through time. Looking at what people have consciously and unconsciously had to say about God in art.

Apr – no meeting for Lent.

Wed 4th May Mike Taylor . is church elder and Deputy Chief Executive at Liverpool Vision where he is responsible for bringing inward investment into the city, asks questions about the apparent contradiction between Christianity and the world of Commerce.

Wed 1st June Walt Denning, has many years' experience working in production for the BBC and lecturing at Salford university on the media will talk about Christianity and the media

The God who gives us a conscience, also gives us a brain and requires that we use both.
